

HUMAN SEX TRAFFICKING FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT 1 DAY SEMINAR

INSTRUCTED BY TOM STACK

$199 per student

Street Cop Instructor Tom Stack will pull back the curtain and give you an inside look at the dark and evil world of human trafficking from the inside out. Stack will give you the tools you will need to go after and take down these individuals and organizations. "Human Sex Trafficking for Law Enforcement" will break down the difference between sex trafficking and prostitution, look at the different places where sex trafficking can be located, identify the characteristics of trafficking victims and the vulnerabilities that lead to their victimization, and learn the difference between a child prostitute and a child sex trafficking victim as well as the different types of child sex trafficking. Stack will show you the inner workings of Latino Brothels and Asian Massage Parlors, and he will teach you where brothels are located, what they look like, who they employ, and how they operate.

Stack will share his experiences working on multiple human trafficking cases and the investigative techniques that were used to find victims and keep them available for trial. Tom will speak about his experience as one of the lead investigators of the United States v. Jeremy Naughton case and discuss in depth the investigation, indictment and trial of Jeremy Naughton. You will leave this course with knowledge of the pimp recruiting grounds and methods of recruitment, how to use the internet as a tool to locate child sex trafficking victims, indicators observed in online prostitution advertisements and posting boards that will lead to possible child sex trafficking victims, and the use of investigative tools like search warrants, subpoenas, preservation letters and single party consent recording.

Instructor Tom Stack began law enforcement career in 1986 as a Corrections Officer for the Montgomery County MD, Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation. In 1988 Tom joined the Montgomery County MD, Department of Police as a police officer. During Stack's 26-year career with MCP he was assigned to patrol, plain clothes street crimes unit, and the Vice and Intelligence Unit. Stack has investigated and assisted in more than 450 Prostitution/Human Trafficking cases to include Asian Massage parlors, Latino Brothels, Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking cases, Labor Trafficking cases, Internet prostitution cases, and "John" sting cases, as well as numerous undercover stings. Additionally, he was a Federal Task Force Officer with the FBI, Maryland Child Exploitation Task Force where he was one of the lead investigators on the United States vs Jeremy Naughton human trafficking case. Stack has trained thousands of law enforcement officers on human trafficking awareness, and he has conducted trainings in Russia, Thailand, El Salvador and all over the United States. He has presented at numerous major conferences on human trafficking including the National Crimes Against Children's Conference in Dallas TX. Tom Stack is currently the Human Trafficking Coordinator for the City of Baltimore, Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Safety and Engagement where he oversees anti-human trafficking efforts in the City of Baltimore. Stack also started, and is the Co-Chair of, the Baltimore City Human Trafficking Collaborative.
